Profile

A designer and front-end developer with both local government and freelance experience, an eye for detail and a passion for great typography. I like to create simple, clean designs and memorable user experiences.

Experience

Web Team Leader

SHROPSHIRE COUNCIL 2009 - Present

Design lead of corporate website, intranet and all online services. Working closely with internal customers and partners on medium and large web projects. Managing projects according to Prince 2 and liaising between highly technical development staff and non-technical customers. Line management responsibility for team of six.

Drove adoption of web standards approach and the organisational take-up of social media. Created web quality guidelines for all corporate web services.

Working in a high-pressure environment under challenging deadlines, no-budget projects and with politically sensitive clients.

Projects of note
